

Games that Teach

Ice Cream Flavors in an empty Ice Cream Bucket

Slips of paper with ice cream flavors in a bucket are chosen after a team member answers a review question correctly. The points won are 10 times the number of letters in the ice cream flavor.

Think about it: Is having an ice cream bucket and all the neat flavor labels in the bucket the same as the real thing? It can even make your mouth water. However, you are left empty, just like the bucket.

How is this like taking on labels yourself but not really knowing God personally? For instance: "I go to church. I'm a church-goer." "I go to Good News Club." We might look good on the outside and say, "I'm a good person." But what if we really don't know Jesus as our Savior? Then we're missing the real thing.

The list of Flavors to copy and print and cut out:

Cookies and Cream

Turtle Tracks

Vanilla

Caramel

Mint Chocolate Chip

Strawberry

Blueberry Waffle Cone

Superman

Chocolate

Neopolitan

Rocky Road

Tin Roof Sundae

